

TABLE 1: Total minerals production value in New Mexico from 1989 to 2000. ¹ Data from Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department (1997-2002). ² Data from U. S. Geological Survey, Mineral Yearbooks (1989-1998), Tanner and McLemore (1999, 2001a, 2001b), Smith (2000). na—not available

Year	Minerals production value ¹ (including coal production) (dollars)	Payroll ¹ (including coal production) (dollars)	Minerals production value ² (excluding coal production) (dollars)	Rank in United States ² (excluding coal production)	Minerals production value in U.S. ² (excluding coal production) (dollars)	Percentage of U. S. total ² (excluding coal production)
2001	1,236,641,553	282,283,691	651,710,757	na	na	na
2000	1,377,411,947	260,609,375	812,000,000	18	na	na
1999	1,453,066,873	277,708,501	715,000,000	21	39,100,000,000	1.72
1998	1,504,795,624	310,550,710	853,000,000	17	39,600,000,000	2.25
1997	1,621,513,947	300,851,045	1,040,000,000	14	40,500,000,000	2.56
1996			992,000,000	13	38,700,000,000	2.56
1995			1,130,000,000	11	38,500,000,000	2.94
1994			930,000,000	12	35,200,000,000	2.64
1993			804,049,000	12	na	na
1992			871,279,000	15	31,714,000,000	2.75
1991			985,510,000	10	30,793,000,000	3.20
1990			1,103,481,000	10	33,432,000,000	3.30
1989			1,122,303,000	10	31,811,000,000	3.53